

Introduction to Clinical Information System Integration

Before users can access the NCSR via clinical information system integration your PRODA Registered Officer must complete a one time registration process using PRODA and the National Cancer Screening Register (NCSR) Healthcare Provider Portal.

This guide outlines prerequisites and the steps required to complete registration.

Pre-requisites to be completed in PRODA

Step 1:

PRODA checklist: Before commencing the NCSR registration process, check the following are complete:

Responsible Officer (must be an Associate or Authorised Person on the Australian Business Register) has an individual PRODA account

- Services Australia PRODA – How to register for an Individual account
- PRODA Hotline – 1800 700 199

Have your organisation's Healthcare Provider Identifier–Organisation (HPI-O) number ready. This must be the HPI-O that has been used to register for the organisation's National Authentication Service for Health (NASH) certificate. Most practices already have a HPI-O, however if required further details can be found at:

- Services Australia PRODA – How to apply for organisations

The Responsible Officer (must be an Associated or Authorised Person on the Australian Business Register) has registered their organisation in PRODA:

- Services Australia PRODA - How to register an organisation
- PRODA Hotline – 1800 700 199

The Responsible Officer has linked the NCSR as a Service Provider to the organisation within PRODA.

- PRODA Hotline – 1800 700 199

Once the above are complete, proceed to step 2.

Register your practice with the NCSR

Step 2:

Go to the NCSR Healthcare Provider Portal

Step 3:

Login using your PRODA username and password and enter your two factor authentication code when prompted.

Step 4:

When selecting the type of user you are, select – 'I would like to register a practice management system or clinical information system using a HPIO.'

Step 5:

Enter your HPI-O number and select Save, then Register.

Note: You may register more than one HPI-O by selecting 'Add HPI-O'.

Step 6:

The Register will obtain your organisation's ABN and business name from Services Australia, and display this on screen.

Confirm these details are correct, or modify and correct the information presented.

If no organisation details are presented, enter your ABN and organisation name.

Step 7:

Complete the form, to record details for your organisation, Responsible Officer and alternate contact(s).

Select 'Continue'.

Step 8:

Read and accept the Terms of Use.
